Now, the trouble is that some of the firmware updates create new options or changes that MUST be coded.. After the update has done, the COMAND is SCN coded, and this will fail on cars that could not have had this option from factory as the MB computer can not generate the coding string since as far as it is concerned this is impossible.. Thus you need to see someone with both a genuine Star diagnosis machine and contract, and able to use developer mode to hand code the unit properly afterwards.. In 0929 and the one before it, the options which need coding are a) Econonical routing mode (ok, so you could just not have this) b) Fader - this must be set back to ON or you get no fader..
